Art Unit: 2833

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 30, 52, 54, 56, 57, 58, 59, 61, 63, 64 and 65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Neef et al 5639250.

Neef et al discloses (Figure 6) a female edge connector having end pieces 70, 72 and center piece 12, each piece having contacts therein and hold down tabs 36 and polarization features (unnumbered parallel bars on top); and male edge connector (Figures 7 and 8) with the same features. The pieces are joined together by rear modules 14, 15, 74.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 53, 55, 60 and 62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Neef et al.

It would have been obvious to use an adhesive to hold the pieces together since adhesives are used in a wide variety of applications where permanent securement is desired.

Art Unit: 2833

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 2 of the amendment to the specification filed January 20, 2004, -- now U.S. Patent No. 6,679,733, -- should be inserted after "2001,".

Appropriate correction is required.

The other references cited on Form 892 disclose similar multipiece connectors.
